Pastoral Letter April 2014

Dear Friends,

Has 'Spring' Sprung? Snowdrops, Bluebells, Crocuses and Daffodils. I've seen some birds build their nest. The cycle of the seasons kindles anticipation and kindles hope. There is a sense in which the cycle will continue even when the world seems to stop. How often have you experienced a moment when your world stops! This can be caused by a bereavement, a betrayal, a disappointment, a medical result or a hope dashed. The consolation of the Gospel and the Christian faith is that 'The sun will shine again'. This is not to say we will not revisit our pain and words stopping moment with incredible detail. The agony of certain events may come like waves on the sea shore, crashing one moment, gently lapping the next.

For a time I worked as Chaplain at Gartnavel Royal Hospital. It is a Psychiatric Hospital. The crest on the Hospital insignia had the image of a sun breaking through the clouds and the phrase 'The sun will shine again' was heralded above. The promise and hope of light shining in the midst of mental illness was a hope fostering strategy. The clouds would give way to the sun.

We are not alone, whatever we may face, we live in God's world.

The season of lent within some traditions is often seen as a season to think about the agony and pain Jesus endured. It is equally a time to look to his resurrection and hope it brings.

Kindest regards

Yours

Beware if you use a gym . . .

A quarters of gym users put ON weight when they start exercising, because they allow themselves treats after a workout. A recent study has found that while 39 per cent of us burn as few as 300 calories during each visit to the gym, we then indulge ourselves by consuming more calories than we have just used up in exercising. Sadly, regular gym sessions not only give you a 'feeling of complacency', they also boost your appetite!

Baby

A small boy wanted a baby brother, so his father suggested he pray every night for one. The boy began to pray earnestly, night after night. When nothing happened, he gave up. After a few months his dad said they were going to see mum in the hospital and he was going to get a big surprise. When they got to the room, the little boy saw his mother holding two babies. "Well, what do you think about having twin brothers?" his dad asked. The little boy thought for a moment and replied: "It is a good thing I stopped praying when I did."

Thank You . . .

Christian Aid News

The annual Christian Aid fair held in St Mary's Hall on 01 March 2014 raised £2,453, with the paper stall raising £174. This figure includes £80 donation from St Mary's members. Sincere thanks are due to everyone who donated to, helped out at and attended the fair.

Christian Aid week begins on 11 May. As usual we will need new people to help with the House-to-House collection. Anyone interested please contact Paul Malcolm on 578 1520. Thank you.

Gardening is good for you

Here is good news as Spring gets underway: DIY or gardening can cut the risk of a heart attack by one third, and prolong the lives of adults over 60. Routine activities such as gardening, DIY, car maintenance and even blackberry picking can be just as good as exercise for older people. A study in the British Journal of Sports Medicine found that those with a generally active daily life have a much lower risk of heart problems.

VISITORS ARE WELCOME

St Mary's is a sit anywhere Church and visitors are always welcome. If you feel there should be more to life than retail therapy and Friday night clubbing, try coming along to the 11 o'clock service on Sunday morning. You may hear something to change how you value your life and your relationships with those around you. You don't have to join up to join in.

The Church office is located on the right as you enter the Church Halls. The secretary, Mrs Lynn Hay, is available in the office Monday to Friday 9.15 a.m. – 12.15 p.m. and may be the first point of contact for general enquiries. Lynn will be able to refer you to the person best suited to respond. Church office telephone 0141 775 1166 or e-mail: office.stmarys@btconnect.com

The Parishioner

Copy for the May Parishioner should be handed to Sandra Burns, left in the Publications pigeon hole in the Hall vestibule, or sent by e-mail to sandraburns@ntlworld.com no later than Sunday 27 April.

Listeners Circle – The last meeting of this session will be on Friday 11 April, which is one week earlier than normal. The choice of music is that of John McGugan and everyone is welcome at 2.00pm in the Session House.

Centenary . . . Evening with . . .

Alex Shuttleworth provided excellent entertainment for our fifth “Evening with ...” event on Thursday 20th March. The event was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended at the Session House on that evening to hear Alex speak.

We now have only two further “Evening with...” events planned before our Centenary Service. Former leader of the Scottish Conservatives and current MSP Annabel Goldie joins us on 24th April. This should be a fascinating evening considering Annabel’s expansive experience in Scottish Politics and decision making in this the most important year in Scotland’s political life since 1707. We will have the usual catering from Nonna’s. On 22nd May, a familiar face and friend of St Mary’s, Dreena O’Malley of Deafblind Scotland will give us the benefit of her involvement in this worthy charity. This will be a fitting finale to this portion of events. We are lining up some new speakers to allow us to continue what has been an interesting, humorous and informative and above all sociable venture.

For all upcoming events please see the list of dates in the centre pages and the two enclosed flyers advertising our two singing initiatives. As well as the upcoming events we hope you have had an opportunity to let us have some of your recollections in our Centenary snippets (please place these in the box in the vestibule) and / or your contribution to our Centenary Quilt.

We hope there is something there you feel able to participate in.

Thank you.

Charles Hay, Centenary Committee

ECO CHURCH

Bras for Africa

In addition to the items we are already recycling we will now be recycling bras for Oxfam. The bras will be sent to Oxfam's social enterprise Frip Ethique in Senegal, where most of the employees are women, who sort and sell clothes donated, including bras, to local market traders. Not only does this enable the women to make a living but profits are invested in Oxfam's work fighting poverty in Senegal. British bras are much sought after in Senegal, where few businesses have the technology needed to make them.

As there is not an Oxfam shop in Kirkintilloch, if you wish to donate any bras to Oxfam for this project, they can be placed in the box labelled 'Bras for Africa' in the ladies room and from there they will be taken to our nearest Oxfam shop in Bishopbriggs, by the ECO committee.

Swift Conservation Survey – for 2nd Award

For their second award St Mary's Church ECO Committee has embarked on a Swift Conservation Survey and hopes to involve the whole community.

CAN YOU HELP?

Swift numbers are in decline in our towns and villages and one important reason for this is loss of nesting sites. It is easy and inexpensive to protect swift nesting sites, or to create new ones, but in order to do this we need to know where the lost or diminishing sites are.

HERE ARE SOME HINTS TO HELP YOU:

- The picture opposite shows what swifts look like
- Swifts spend their whole life on the wing and do not land like other birds
- They fly straight into and out of their nesting sites
- They migrate to the southern hemisphere for the winter months
- They return to the northern hemisphere to breed – arriving in May and departing in August
- Likely places to spot them are cliffs, crags and in holes in stonework or gaps under the eaves of buildings. When older buildings are upgraded many gaps suitable for nesting sites are sealed and new buildings simply do not provide such vantage points
- “Screaming parties” are groups of immature birds behaving like noisy teenagers and their presence can draw your attention to nesting sites
- Feeding on small insects, they fly high in fine weather and close to the ground in wet conditions
- Times of day to look for them: 8.30am–10am, middle of the day and 9.30pm-10.30pm in warm, still weather
- Try to follow them to their nesting sites
- Try to estimate how many birds were in the group

IF YOU THINK YOU HAVE SPOTTED SWIFTS:
Please contact June McCann on 0141 776 2187 to obtain a survey form.

Session

More Than Gold

At our Session meeting on 19th March, I took the opportunity to show Session a DVD that has been prepared by an initiative called More than Gold. This initiative is all about how the Church (not just the Church of Scotland) engages with the crowds of people coming to Scotland for the Commonwealth Games. Examples range from distribution of free drinks and bottles of water to visitors, to offering a room in your home to athletes families to stay during the Games. We forget that many athletes and their families may only be able to come here to compete because of generosity such as this.

This initiative is also about how the Church engages with the local community during the Games. This is a unique opportunity to invite the wider community into St Mary's to participate in a sports quiz or as part of a kids activity club or to show the opening ceremony on a large screen.

More than Gold provides resources and support. Part of those resources will be a Big Red Bus that will be touring Kirkintilloch and surrounding areas during the games providing daily programs of outreach activities for children during the day and possibly for young adults in the evening.

If you would be willing to assist with this can you please contact me and I can put you in contact with the right people.

I also took the opportunity to advise Session that I am standing down from the role as Session Clerk in the summer. I am pleased to say that Gordon Morrison indicated a willingness to take up the baton and Session unanimously agreed to this. I am grateful to Gordon and to Session for their support.

Easter Morning

(John 20:1-18)

Who is it you are looking for?
Who?
Mary,
Looking for her Lord,
Early in the morning,
While it was still dark,
Looking for Jesus,
Expecting his death-wrapped
body,
Finding, instead, the stone of surprises and loss.
The men come and go,
But Mary stays and weeps
For the love of her Lord.
Looking, looking into the darkness,
She weeps.
Angels in white turn her to the light,
And the possibility of grace.
And in the speaking of her
name, the world changes.
Mary.
Looking, looking no longer,
The Lord lives, gloriously,
For Mary.
He lives for all who look.
Who is it you are looking for?
Who?

DAISIES

There is an old saying 'when you can stand on seven daisies at once then spring has come'. I like daisies with their bright yellow middles and tiny petals. If you look closely, you'll see that not all the daisies in any lawn will be white; some of them are edged with pink. When I was little I asked my mum why and she told me this story to explain why.

On that first Easter morning, when Jesus walked in the garden and was seen by Mary and the other women who thought he was a gardener, his bare feet touched just some of the daisies in the grass. And because he still had the wounds in his feet his blood touched the daisies and marked their petals pink.

I love this story and still to this day I feel sorry for the daisies that Jesus didn't touch - because when Jesus touches our lives all things change and spring comes into our hearts forever.

The Rectory . . .

St James the Least My dear Nephew Darren

I am not the least surprised you have got yourself into trouble; innovation is never to be encouraged. New ideas tend to cause revolutions. The move from incandescent light-bulbs to energy saving ones may ultimately change the Church of England.

Change is something everyone claims to be in favour of—provided it has no measurable effect on their own lives. I remember as a young curate once suggesting that at the Harvest Supper, tables might be enlarged so that eight people could sit together rather than the traditional six, thus helping more people get to know one another. The response would have been similar if I had suggested we travel to London to murder the Prime Minister. I was firmly told that tables for six had been perfectly adequate for parishioners in Queen Victoria's day. For the rest of my curacy, I was regarded as a revolutionary, to be watched carefully.

So at your last visit to our Church, to suggest that our 11am Mattins may be moved to 10.30am, in order to encourage those who wanted have more of the day free to themselves, certainly lobbed a hand grenade among the post-Service coffee cups. The only person who was mildly in favour was Colonel Wainwright, who quickly realised that it would give him an extra half-hour at the gin and tonics before lunch.

Should you ever feel that people lack imagination, you should watch them in action when they find reasons for resisting an unwelcome suggestion. One said that the time couldn't be moved, since it would then be too early for the local bus – omitting to mention that none of our congregation travel to church by bus and that the service doesn't run on Sundays anyway. Another pointed out that it would confuse those who didn't attend church – not explaining why if they never attended, it mattered what time the Service was. A third, rather touchingly mentioned that it wouldn't give the rector time to enjoy his breakfast after the rigours of the 8am Service.

Your suggestion did, however, serve one useful purpose; it brought our congregation together in united opposition. They may not necessarily always know what they are for, but they certainly know what they are against. For that, I thank you

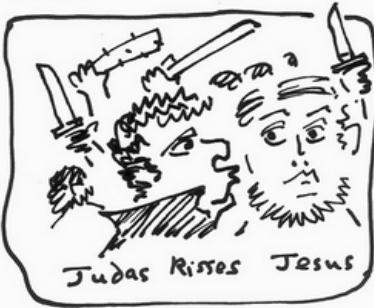

Your loving uncle, Eustace

Not my will but yours be done...

Jesus said to his followers in the garden: "Pray you don't fall into temptation," while he prayed (right). What did they do? Their "fall" was into sleep! (below). Jesus knew he was going to die and the powers of darkness were coming. He felt crushed by sorrow. He called out to God: "Please take this cup of suffering from me! Yet not what I want, but what you want."

Then Judas turned up with enemy soldiers and told them to arrest the man that he kissed.

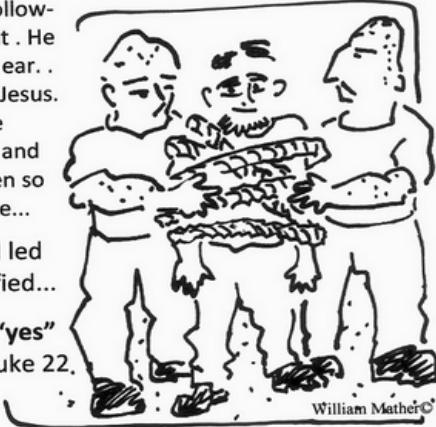

He betrayed Jesus....(below right)...

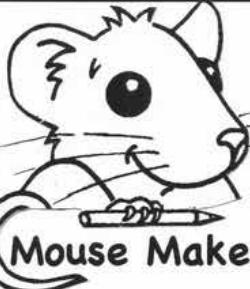

.... One of his followers tried to fight. He cut off a man's ear. "Enough!" Said Jesus. He touched the man's ear (left) and healed him. Even so the enemy came...

... they arrested him and led off (right) to be crucified...

How about you? Could you say "yes" to God like this? Read more in Luke 22, and Matthew 26.

Jesus will come again

Jesus said;
"I will come back and take you to myself so that you will be where I am."
John 14:3

*"Why do you look for the living among the dead?
He is not here; he has risen!"*
