Pastoral Letter

Dear Friends,

As the evenings grow in length, the clock falls back and the winter snaps into action we hear the Chancellor of the Exchequer issue his Autumn Budget.

Were you a winner or a loser?

Do you agree with the additional money to schools? Do you agree with the additional money to repair 'pot-holes' in the roads?

There are probably as many opinions on the budget as there are people affected by it.

Money, the use of money and the longing after money are often addressed in the Bible.

Consider the Old Testament book of Proverbs. Chapter twenty-two verse seven says 'The rich

'whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully will also reap bountifully'

rule over the poor, and the borrower is the slave to the lender. Look at Proverbs. At chapter fifteen verse twenty-two you can read 'Without council plans fail, but with many advisors they succeed.'

In the New Testament you can read in Timothy chapter six verse ten, 'The love of money is the root of all kinds of evil.' Please note, it is the love of money, not money itself that is the root of all kinds of evil.

I believe this is important. The Bible recognises the importance of money. It recognises how it can be used for good or ill. The Bible sees that money can be a blessing and a curse.

It is desperate when we see people who truly do not have enough to make ends meet.

With Christmas approaching some families will worry about how they may manage to prepare a meal, purchase gifts and have a simple but 'good' Christmas. For some folks living on their own there will be anxiety as the nights get longer and the temperature drops and the need for additional heating or lighting begins to escalate their living cost.

The Christian is called to be wise in the use of their money. There is a call to careful living but there is also a call to generosity. In second Corinthians chapter nine you can read at verse six these words. 'The point is this: whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully will also reap bountifully'

Looking at the rich list. Warren Buffet the American business man is worth 81.5 American Dollars. He said, "If you are in the luckiest 1% of humanity, you owe it to the rest of humanity to think about the other 99%."

We are unlikely to be in the top 1%, but even if we have more than we need can we be generous. If we do not have enough can we be gracious to receive?

Kindest regards

Mak.

Remembering the end of World War One

This year Remembrance Sunday (11th November) marks the centenary of the end of World War One. Of the 65 million men who were mobilized, 8.5 million were killed and a further 21 million wounded. Wilfred Owen wrote of those 'who die as cattle.'

How should we celebrate this anniversary? In remembering the Armistice, our response should be to desire Micah's vision of universal peace in our world: 'They will beat their swords into ploughshares and their spears into pruning hooks. Nation will not take up sword against nation, nor will they train for war anymore.' (Micah 4:3).

However, why keep asking God for peace, when we continue to see such violence and unrest in our world? The Bible makes it clear that peace is not just the absence of war or being untroubled. It means being in a right relationship with God through Jesus Christ, with other people and with wider society. Of course, Micah's words are looking to end of time when God will make all things new in His universal kingdom. However, these promises also can speak to us now. The ministry of Jesus demonstrated the kingdom or reign of God breaking into the everyday, as He healed the sick and brought reconciliation and hope. When we pray for peace, we're rejecting the 'old order of things' of violence and war and asking God to make His kingdom real today. We're citizens of the new kingdom, reshaping the old. The end of the centenary of World War 1 is a time to consider peace. Although the war did not bring a lasting peace to the world, for the Christian there's a deeper lesson: peace begins with the healing of hearts, the restoring of relationships and with a deep, costly commitment to justice.

Gifts should be returned UNWRAPPED in a recyclable bag with the label clearly visible to aid with the sorting and distribution of your gift.

Your generosity is very much appreciated by all the organisations – especially at this time of year and in these difficult economic times – as they work to ensure your gift makes a difference to someone over the Festive period and beyond.

Thank you for your support.

Session Report

You will remember in last month's Parishioner I reported that we had been cited to attend the General Meeting of Glasgow Presbytery on the 9th of October. I wanted to take this time to provide a brief update on proceedings since that date.

I attended the Presbytery meeting, along with our Presbytery Elder, Garry Burns. We had expected the Stewardship & Finance Committee to present a full report with regard to our current financial shortfall, but instead they simply reported that they wished to discuss matters further with our Kirk Session. So, although we were cited to attend Presbytery, there were no substantive discussions with regard to St Mary's. Instead, Presbytery agreed that the meeting with our Kirk Session should take place and the Stewardship & Finance Committee were instructed to bring their full report to Presbytery in December. The meeting with our Kirk Session has been arranged for Wednesday 7th November and it is anticipated that the Presbytery Clerk will be in attendance, along with representatives of the Stewardship & Finance Committee. This is an additional meeting of the Kirk Session, which will be constituted for this one item of business. Our regular Session Meeting for November will take place the following week, on the 14th, as previously planned.

I would hope to be in a position to provide a further update on progress in December, but in the meantime if you would like any additional information, please don't hesitate to get in touch.

With thanks and kind regards,

Gordon Morrison, Session Clerk

Editor: This is the month we remember soldiers and war. So here is a prayer written by an anonymous Confederate soldier in the American Civil War. What he says applies to all of us fighting our own private battles in life.

The Soldier's Prayer

I asked God for strength, that I might achieve,
I was made weak, that I might learn humbly to obey.
I asked for health, that I might do greater things,
I was given infirmity, that I might do better things.
I asked for riches, that I might be happy,
I was given poverty, that I might be wise.
I asked for power, that I might have the praise of men,
I was given weakness, that I might feel the need of God.
I asked for all things, that I might enjoy life,
I was given life, that I might enjoy all things.
I got nothing that I asked for –
But everything that I had hoped for,
Almost despite myself, my unspoken prayers were answered.
I am among all men most richly blessed.

With the advent of Winter, the vicar's thoughts turned to the urgent study of arcane and esoteric texts

New Ways of being Church

Some Questions we may ask as we think about our faith and the life of the Church in Kirkintilloch.

What is our vision? Where are we going?

How can we make a difference?

How can we touch the lives of people in the community?

How do we get folk over the threshold of the church?

How can we deepen our faith?

How can we get to know one another better ?

How or why do we pray?

How do we respond to the Big Issues in our lives and the life of the world?

Perhaps we could make a start by coming together as a group to explore and discuss some of these questions using the theme

New ways of being Church; Church with an Open Door, Open Heart and Open Mind.
Let us explore the issues together.

Bible Bite

A short story from the Bible

It can be read in the Bible in
Mt 9:9-13, Mk 2:13-15, Lk 5:27-32

The Roman invaders had given the job of collecting their taxes to local Jews who also overcharged, so they were doubly hated.

Matthew had his tax office by Lake Galilee.

Jesus walked past, and said

Matthew left everything and went with Jesus.

Matthew held a big feast and invited his friends so they could meet Jesus.

They were other tax collectors and bad people

The Pharisees saw Jesus eating with them.

They grumbled to Jesus' disciples.

Jesus heard them and said

Why is your teacher eating with all those bad people?

Who needs a doctor, healthy people or the sick?

Try reading 'keeping rules doesn't make up for not having kindness.' *

*Hosea 6:6

Hosea was talking about people who looked like they were following God's rules but were bad inside.

I have come for the people who need my help.

The Rectory . . .

My dear Nephew Darren

I am truly furious. I know that God has given clergy church councils, so they can have a better understanding of hell, but last night's meeting really was too much. The traps are always sprung under "any other business". Several hundred thousand pounds can be committed to repairing the tower without the slightest murmur, but if someone should suggest mending the tea urn under AOB, the meeting will close with blood on the carpets.

So it was yesterday evening. We had negotiated the tricky subject of not mentioning the verger when it was recorded that the cupboard containing the Communion wine will be kept locked in future. We had ever-so-gently sat on Mr Onions when he questioned whether it was biblical to hold raffles at our social evenings. We even smiled with equanimity when Lady Faversham grumbled about the damp Communion wafers.

But when our treasurer, after a long preamble about soaring house prices in the village, suggested that the 12 bedoomed Queen Anne Rectory be sold and housed in one of the "more convenient" potting sheds being built on the green, I did not expect near universal agreement from council members.

That the new Rectory would have all the aesthetic charm of a suburban bus shelter seemed to be irrelevant; that I would have to learn to have all my meals in one dining room, rather than rotate round the present three seemed to be of no concern; that my dog would lose his own private suite passed them by entirely. This may be a case for calling in the Canine Protection Society.

The thought that I would have to get used to a warm, dry house with 21st century plumbing does not bear contemplation. It is only the cold, damp accommodation with Victorian water closets that keeps parishioners and visiting clergy at bay.

It was a close struggle; here was an opportunity for council members to settle a few old scores. You could sense the gleam in Colonel Mitchell's eyes as he recalled losing the hiding place for his whisky when we removed his box pew 30 years ago; he has been obliged to listen to the sermon ever since. And as for Miss Throckmore, who was allocated to decorate the porch rather than the great east window for last year's Harvest, she leapt at the opportunity of condemning me to life in a cardboard box. You could also sense a certain satisfaction when parishioners realised they would then be able to keep an eye on my movements, since there would no longer be several acres of ground and privet hedges to maintain my privacy.

Fortunately, I negotiated some time when I mentioned that possible legal obstacles must be cleared first. In the meantime, I shall be writing to apply for grants to build a substantial moat round my present Rectory – provided it has a working drawbridge.

Your loving uncle, Eustace
